

Flight Dynamics Automatic Credit Card Payment

Automatic credit card payment allows you to pay the tow fees or any fees owed to Flight Dynamics without having to write a check or swipe a credit card at the time of the flight.

Authorization

I hereby authorize Flight Dynamics LLC, to automatically to charge my credit or debit card and for my credit card company to accept and post such debit entries, for the payment of tow fees or any fees owed to Flight Dynamics.

This authority is to remain in effect until Flight Dynamics has received notification in writing of the termination of the agreement in such manner as to afford Flight Dynamics and the credit card company a reasonable opportunity to act on it. I have the right to stop payment of charge entries by notifying Flight Dynamics no later than 10 days prior to the time the account will be charged in order to make changes to this authorization. Any erroneous or incorrect charge will be corrected upon notification to Flight Dynamics. Termination of this agreement does not cancel any debt that is rightful owed to Flight Dynamics. In addition, upon cancellation of this agreement, an alternative payment method must be arranged.
